TWO MASSILLON MEN TESTIFY

BY ROBERT WALLACE
International News Service Staff Correspondent
CANTON, Ohio, Feb. 14.—The state attempted today to draw more closely its net of evidence against Ben Rudner, charged with having been the "pay-off" man in the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton's vice-crusading editor, who was murdered last July.

Through the testimony of two Massillon business men, both known to Rudner, they brought out evidence tending to link Rudner with Pat McDermott, the "trigger man," now serving a life sentence in the Ohio penitentiary for the crime.

William Brunne, under examination, testified that a week before the murder he was introduced to pay McDermott by Rudner in Rudner's hardware store.

"'Bill'" Brunne testified, Rudner said to him:

"'I want you to meet McDermott, another unfortunate fellow who served time in Atlanta.'"

Rudner had testified in the McDermott trial that he had never known McDermott.

Perry Highway Project Being Given Support

Western Pennsylvania Efforts Are United For New Highway

WILL DECREASE ROUTE TO LAKES

Will Eliminate Necessity Of Traveling Through Larger Cities

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 14.—The new Perry Highway, designed to be used as a through route, and which will bring Erie, Pa., 18 miles nearer to Pittsburgh has been urged by many motor and civic clubs of Western Pennsylvania, it was learned here today.

Besides resoultions, recommending the new route, from commissioners of Butler, Beaver, Mercer, Crawford, Lawreace, Erie and Allegheny counties, already placed before James L. Stuart state highway commissioner, petitions from Meadville, New Castle, Beaver Falls, Cambridge Springs and Pittsburgh chamber of commerce, Lions club of Beaver Falls, New Castle, Motor Club, Beaver Valley Motor Club and the Retail Merchants Association of Pittsburgh have been sent Stuart.

The new highway will follow the present Perry road to the Allegheny county line, where a new section to Butler is recommended. From Butler the route will take a straight line to Mercer, Sheakleyville and Meadville, joining the Erie road at that point, the Perry Highway executive committee declared.

The new Perry Highway will be convenient to towns without congesting traffic into the populous section, it was said. It will not only cut the distance between Pittsburgh and Erie but will save time as few population centers will be traversed.

Frank P. Filer, of Mercer, is chairman of the highway executive committee; John C. Dight, of Butler, secretary; Henry Tranter, Fred C. Schatz and Edward Snodgrass, Jr. from Pittsburgh, also comprise this committee.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—If the American stage hires a "dictator" it will be somebody else—not Alexander P. Moore, former ambassador to Spain.

Moore announced here today that he had been "informally approached" on the proposal, but declared he would not accept it because "I don't believe in censorship."

"If the New York stage wants to clean itself up it can do so by taking off smutty plays," said Lillian Russell's former husband. "And producers can do the job themselves without any censor."

Moore called on President Coolidge at the White House.

American Military Observers Believe Chang Tso Lin's Drive Successful

By JOHN GOETTE
International News Service Staff Correspondent
PEKING, Feb. 14.—With hundreds of thousands of troops on the move a general spring offensive in the region of the Yanktse river is in prospect.

Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, war lord governor of Manchuria and the actual power behind the Peking government, convinced of the inability of Marshal Wu Pei-Fu to prosecute an active campaign against the cantonese forces at Hankow, today began the movement of 50,000 of his Feng-Tien troops across the Yellow river to occupy Chenchow. This city is in Honan province, the stronghold of Wu Pei-Fu, and constitutes the invasion of Honan by Chang's troops which Wu last week warned Chang would be contested by Wu's troops. Chenchow is on the direct railway line between Hankow and Peking.

Wu Pei-Fu shifted his headquarters from Chenchow to Loyang.

Following the arrival of Chang Chihli and Shantung troops at Anhwei, just north of the Yellow river, general Chang Sueh-Liang will be appointed commander of the Hupeh forces, when the drive to retake Hankow from the Cantonese begins.

American military observers who have recently returned from the war zone predict that Chang Tso Lin's drive for Hankow will succeed, but if they make efforts to win successes further south they have great difficulty owing to the low watery terrain.

"Wet" Candidate Will Not Receive G.O.P. Nomination

Washington Still Much "Up In Air" Over Coolidge's Attitude

By GEORGE H. MANNING.
(Washington Correspondent of the News.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 14.—Washington takes no stock in the report that President Coolidge will refuse to be a candidate for another term in the White House.

This is indicated by the amount of speculation on the subject going on in the corridors of the Capitol which culminated in introduction in the House of a resolution declaring it to be the opinion of the House that a president should retire after his "second term."

Discredit Butler.

The talk was started by Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university and "wet" Republican leader in New York. In a recent speech in New York Dr. Butler made the flat statement that President Coolidge would not seek another term and a sensation was caused at once because this is a question which has been puzzling every politician since the last election.

Not that a vast majority of Republican senators and representatives ordinarily place any credence in the remarks of the president of

Sends Three Dollars Of Conscience Money

Three dollars "conscience money" has been sent to W. C. McKeown of the local traction company, it was learned today—thus bringing once again to light that wrongdoing brings stabs to the conscience.

According to a note to Mr. McKeown, a passenger found $3 on a car enroute to Cascade Park 17 years ago.

The money was not returned at that time but evidently the finder's conscience hurt and the three bills with a note reading: "Found on company's car going to Cascade Park more than 17 years ago" was sent him.

The money has been sent to the "conscience fund."

Fatal Wrecks Occur In Fog-Bound England

(International News Service)
LONDON, Feb. 14.—Eight persons were killed and at least fifteen injured today when two passenger trains collided head-on at Hull during the dense fog which has blanketed all England for four days.

The collision occurred at nine o'clock this morning. A local incoming passenger train smashed with terrific force into an out-going special train. Six coaches of the local train were telescoped.

Rescue parties were quickly formed and searched feverishly among the debris, recovering the bodies of the dead and rescuing the injured.

Another wreck, in which seven persons were injured, occurred at London Bridge station, when an incoming train running blind in the fog ran into the stop bumpers.

This was the fourth consecutive day England has been fog-bound. While the fog today was lighter over many districts than it has been during the week-end, it still was heavy over the English channel, London and Southern England.

Thirty persons were taken to the hospital from the scene of the Hull wreck, and it was feared the number of dead might reach twelve. The telescoped cars carried scores of children on their way to school.

Operators And Mine Delegates Open Conference

Soft Coal Miners And Operators Gather In Miami For Annual Conflab

SITUATION TENSE AS MEETING OPENS

Miners Seek Increase In Wages; Fear Tie-Up Unless Demands Are Met

By KENNETH CLARK,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 14.—Seemingly as far apart as the poles, the soft coal miners and operators came together today for their perennial fight over wages. The miners want increased wages; the operators want to slash the pay.

The conference was summoned to draft a new wage scale for the Jacksonville agreement which expires March 31. Unless an agreement, permanent or temporary, is reached, approximately 350,000 union bituminous miners will walk out of the pits at the expiration of the present contract.

None of the responsible union or operator officials really believe that there will be a strike this year. They believe that a compromise though it can be effected only after the sharpest kind of fighting, will be reached. The negotiations are expected to be fairly long drawn out.

Situation Tense

Certain it is, however, that unless there are wholesale concessions by both sides from the proposals originally presented, there is danger of a tieup in the bituminous industry, which is admitted by both groups to be in none too healthy a condition.

The operators today agreed upon Herman C. Perry of Hillsboro, Ills., as the official spokesman. This job carries with it the chairmanship of the joint wage conference.

The miners went into conference, standing for $7.50 a day, the present basic wage as the irreducible minimum wage. Leaders on the policy committee said they would not dare report back to the membership with anything less. They will try to get as much more as possible, probably for trading purposes at least, demanding an increase of $1.50 or so a day. Some of the union delegates are also urging a six hour five day week, but this, except for its utility in a concession, seems unlikely to play an important part. The union has other proposals to counter the operators' wage cut demands. Many of the miners would be satisfied to get a renewal of the present pay scale, if it were backed by gilt edge pledges of the operators not to violate it. John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, has charged that several large companies have abrogated the Jacksonville agreement by making substantial wage cuts.

Competition Keen

Declaring that they are facing virtually ruinous competition from the non-union coal fields in West Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky, where lower wages are paid, the operators insisted not only upon a substantial wage reduction but upon a flexible wage scale which may be revised as conditions warrant by an arbitration board set up by the union and the owners. The board would consist of 11 members, four miners, four operators and three men to be agreed upon by the workers and owners. The board would establish a competitive wage, that is, a weighted average of the scale paid in the non-union fields. To this wage, the operators would add 10 per cent for union men.

Union officials pointed out that the average non-union wage is $5 which would make the wage proposed in the operators' plan about $5.50 a day, or $2 below the present scale. They shouted a loud no to this proposition.

The operators here are not at all willing to go above $7.50 while the non-union fields are posting reductions. The compromise, therefore, if is reached, probably will approximate the present rate. The wage is being drafted for the so-called Central Competitive Field, consisting of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania. This is the scale upon which wages in all other fields are based.

Perry, operators' spokesman, withdrew his name and Rice Miller, of Hillsboro, chairman of the Illinois Operators Association, was elected chairman of the joint wage committee.

Town Talk

While many of those who were in the larg crowd upon the downtown streets Saturday afternoon, professed lack of curiosity to see the Prince, the alibi didn't get very far. Several thousands spectators were on the streets when the cars bearing the Prince of Sweden, and headed by the Pennsylvania band, scouts, and reception committees came along.

This is St. Valentine's day. The letter carriers are aware of the fact. Likewise in the city schools there is also much evidence of the date. Hundreds of valentines were exchanged in the various schools of the city today in accordance with the annual custom.

Weather conditions which threatened to grow more wintry during Sunday again moderated during the evening and night, and today another mild spring like day, with rain is being experienced. There has not been such a month of February for many years, according to weather observers.

EXCELLENT HIGHWAYS IMPRESS ROYAL PRINCE

our knowledge. I was really very much astonished and surprised but it was very kind of the people here to do this. I don't care much for demonstrations but of course, this was not objectionable to me. It was most charmingly done."

These remarks were made after the return of the pilot car sent out the Butler road to head off and escort the Prince and his party to this city.

The members of the party sent out to intercept the Prince had with them the only Swedish flag, as far as is known, in the city, it being the property of the local branch of the Swedish Federation of America of Which E. A. Nelson is president and who had charge of the flag for the day. Charles Benson, well known cement contractor, past president of the organization, and others of the federation were at the station and were enabled to participate in the welcome to the Prince.

Visit Prince.

Upon their return to the city the members of the party decided that they would see the Prince. They proceeded to the hotel, the Fountain Inn and were advised that he was in room 4 on the second floor and were escorted there by a bell boy.

The door was open. A man was to be seen seated at a small table on which there was some food. He was busily engaged in writing something in a notebook.

Mr. Nelson was made the leader of the party and advanced after rapping lightly on the open door, and addressed the Prince in Swedish as he turned around.

The surpise came as the Prince arose to greet his visitors. When his six feet four inches were erect his visitors, some of whom were rather tall, looked dwarfed.

The visitors were introduced and for several minutes the Prince chatted with them in a pleasing informal manner, without restraint and on topics of interest to all. He and Mr. Nelson had an especially pleasant conversation about the homeland and the place that Mr. Nelson had been born.

It was then that the pilot car party learned that the Prince and his party had journeyed by way of Butler, but instead of coming in the more direct route through Portersville, had gone on to Slippery Rock and in through Harlansburg.

"WET" CANDIDATE WILL NOT RECEIVE G. O. P. NOMINATION

Columbia University, but this statement was regarded as somewhat significant in view of the fact that Dr. Butler had recently been a White House guest.

The advocates of President Coolidge's renomination and re-election are now wondering whether Dr. Butler "spoke from the book" as it were, or whether he was guilty of another one of his blasts for political effect for which he became famous many years ago. Even the closest of the congressional advisers of the President profess absolute ignorance of the wishes or intents of the present occupant of the White House as to future political honors at the hands of his party. Backers and supporters of other prospective candidates have been on a still hunt for many months to try and guage the President's mind in this regard but up to the present they have not received even so much as a hint or suggestion from the one man who can set their minds at rest and relieve the tension now existing so far as the next presidential nominee is concerned.

Are "Up in the Air."

Members of the Republican National committee, Republican senators and representatives who discounted the statements of Dr. Butler will tell you that they are just as much "up in the air" about the wishes and desires of President Coolidge so far as another term in the White House is concerned as are those who lay claim to no political allegiance or affiliations with the Chief Executive.

Friends of the President point to the fact that Dr. Butler's statement was made purely and solely for the purpose of home consumption. The New York professor declared that the candidate of the party would be one backed by the "wet" element.

No sane man who keeps abreast of the times and who is in close touch with the sentiment throughout the country will venture the prediction that the Republican national convention will choose a "wet" candidate for President. In New York city and state such talk as that indulged in by Dr. Butler may carry much weight, say these backers of another term for President Coolidge, but outside a few other so-called "wet" states the preponderance of opinion is two to one against the naming of any man who favors a change in the existing prohibition law. If such a thing should happen in the opnion of those best informed the candidate would be overwhelmingly defeated at the polls on election day.

Favor Renomination.

The vast majority of the Republicans in Washington are heartily in favor of the renomination of the president. They argue that he is stronger in the hearts of the people of the country today than when he assumed office upon the death of President Harding and even more popular than when he was elected president two years ago. The country is enjoying the greatest era of prosperity in its history, backers of President Coolidge claim and if business conditions remain as they are at present there is only one man that should lead the party in the next campaign and that man is Mr. Coolidge. The talk of a "wet" candidate they claim is ridiculous and is not based on wisdom or political expediency.

Even if Mr. Colidge has made up his mind that he will not stand for another term in the White House, his friends declare that he would not make known his determination at this time. There is a great deal of important legislation which he has advocated in his message to congress which will come up for consideration in the next congress and were he to announce his position at this juncture with reference to a third term he would lose what influence he holds on both the senate and house. Members of both houses who belong to the Republican party would be casting about trying to carry favor with Mr. Coolidge's possible sucessor. His control over the legislative branch of the government would be at an end the very minute that it was officially known that it was his intention to retire to private life after March 4, 1929.

So far as the Butler statement is concerned the wisacres in the Republican party see in it a bid for the presidential nomiation on a "wet" ticket. Dr. Butler for many years has been hearing the sound of the presidential bee buzzing in his ears, but he has never gotten any nearer the White House than as the vice presidential candidate on the Republican ticket at its head in the campaign of 1912 and which resulted in the election of Woodrow Wilson as president.

President Coolidge may have decided that two terms in the White House are enough for him just as they were sufficient for any of his predecessors. But those in Washington who claim to be in close touch with the White House declare that Mr. Coolidge would not intrust his inermost secrets to Dr. Butler with authority to give them to the public. In other words they state that the head of Columbia University was merely "talking through his hat" when he declared that the President will not make the race for another term.

Wife Pays More

As Mrs. Beckham plays under a contract, the salary for all the musicians is paid to her. In turn she pays her musicians. Friend husband gets no more than any of the other musicians, while Mrs. Beckham takes what is left. And that, incidentally, generally is twice the amount received by her husband.

Mr. Beckman left a clerical position with a railroad several years ago to take up the banjo.

"My wife offered me more money than the railroad would pay", Mr. Beckham explains. "Besides, she is a pleasant boss. If she does call me down while we are in the orchestra pit, I have a chance to get back at her after the performance'.

Mrs. Beckham has been playing the piano and directing 18 years. In addition she trains her musicians to sing.

Women's Hygienic Advice
New way discards like tissue
By ELLEN J. BUCKLAND
Registered Nurse
THERE is now a way in woman's hygiene that ends most of the bothers and worries of old ways. A new way called Kotex. 8 in 10 better class women have adopted it.
You dispose of it as easily as tissue. Thus no laundry or disposal problem.
You wear lightest, filmiest gowns in safety and without fear. For Kotex protects absolutely under all conditions. Five times as absorbent as ordinary cotton pads.
You obtain it at any store, without hesitancy, simply by saying Kotex. Many stores have it already wrapped for you to pick up, pay for, and take home without even asking.
Package of 12 costs only a few cents. Once you try it, you'll never risk the dangers of old ways again. Be sure you get the genuine. Only Kotex itself is "like" Kotex.

LOVE AND ROMANCE

THE lover who sent the first valentine ranks with the inventor of Santa Claus, among the Great Unknowns of history.

Few men have done as much to make this a joyous world. Surely no one has done more to color life with romance.

No life is worth while unless it attracts and radiates love.

And the valentine is the messenger of Cupid.

If you are on the shady side of youth, there are few memories you can look back to, with the thrill and tenderness of the valentines of school days.

Sometimes we wonder what became of those first sweethearts of youth—the shy little lassie in the gingham pinafore, the sweetheart of the old-time sleighride, the romantic love of our 'teens.

You remember those valentines you sent them? "Them was the days." Looking backward, the valentine days are rosy lanterns in the mists of the past.

Those greatest sweethearts, our wives, may be getting gray. But the old-time love is in their hearts. The thrill of a valentine to them is as tense and glamorous as long ago. This is Valentine Day, and all sweethearts, white-haired or young, yearn for remembrance—violets, candy or, best of all, an honest-to-goodness valentine.

BEAUTY, AT COST OF $390,000,000

SIXTY million women and children patronized American beauty parlors in 1926, each spending approximately $6.50, or a total of $390,000,000. It required 170,000 men and women, including the output of several hundred beauty culture schools, to serve them.

Strange how human customs and beliefs change! It was just a few years ago that the use of cosmetics was thought by a large part of the populace to be vanity, if not downright immorality. In those dark ages the hairdresser's duties were limited to treatments for failing hair and dandruff, her feminine patrons feeling perfectly capable of "doing up" their own more or less flowing and abundant locks to perfection. Had it been possible then to accurately predict the 1927 volume of the beauty parlor trade the good villagers would have set about putting their things in order for the coming of the judgment day.

How different is the public reaction today to this statement of the cost of beautifying the American woman! With the exception of a few old-fashioned irreconcilables, the generation looks upon this expenditure of labor and money as a good investment.

What tenable argument can there be against that which makes woman more lovely? Would some have civilized humanity beautify only the mind and the spirit, leaving the physical scars to depress man with their ugliness? Surely it is just as important for a nation to beautify its people as to beautify its communities and to preserve its natural beauties.

EDISON AND FORD

THE eightieth birthday anniversary of Thomas A. Edison brought to light the curious information that his 1,100 patents have brought him a present fortune of but a million or two, while one invention has earned Henry Ford upwards of two billions.

Certain traits of human nature aid in explaining why a certain ubiquitous, four-cylinder automobile has made billions for its creator while Edison's great boons to humanity have left him far down on the list of 11,000 American millionaires. What these traits are all know.

Seeking deeper for another reason one finds it in the natures of the two men themselves. There is as great a difference in the purpose and philosophies of the two men as there is between their fortunes.

Edison is an inventor by instinct and by choice. His purpose in life is giving society those things which will make life happier and easier. He is not interested in building up a huge fortune or a great industrial organization. In fact he says he has no idea how large his private fortune is, and financiers and those in his confidence can only guess at it.

On the other hand, Ford's invention was but a means to an end. Invention to him was but the nearest route to his life's goal—industrial leadership and the amassing of a great fortune. Making money and adding to his "industrial kingdom,, are Ford's hobbies.

Which has served mankind most? The electrical wizard with his electric lamp, phonograph, electric railway, electric motor, quadruplex telegraphy, the radio microphone, and hundreds of inventions in daily use? Or the automobile wizard with his pioneer small car and his industrial organizations furnishing employment to thousands of men and women?

One of the reasons why it takes the world so long to get anywhere is because men and women die so soon after they have arrived at the age of sound judgment and discretion, and their places must be taken by young folks who have to begin it all over again.

THE LOST VOICE

Seated one day in the office,
Distracted and ill at ease.
I wildly juggled the phone book,
And Central said "Number, please?"

I know not what number I gave her,
'Tis vanished beyond recall.
I know I was flabbergasted
That she answered the phone at all.

It chilled me with sheer amazement,
It thrilled me with fierce delight,
For when she repeated the number
She actually got it right!

I glued the phone to my eardrum
And my heart beat high and fast,
As I said to myself "Eureka!"
I shall get the call at last!

But I waited and waited and waited,
Once more I seized the hook
Between my thumb and finger,
And shook and shook and shook.

But I listened and listened vainly
The sun had waned and set
And the stars were out, but Central
Has made no answer yet.
It may be she'll answer sometime,
But I wonder now and then
If only when I'm in heaven
Shall I hear that voice again!

Thomas A. Edison Friday celebrated the end of his first eighty useful years. Photographs show a face keen, alert, eyes clear as they were forty years ago. He has had one advantage for many years, deafness, saving him from the nonsense talked about him.

He is, with one possible exception, the greatest living American.

Saturday is the day of Abraham Lincoln, born 116 years ago. No telegrams of congratulations can reach him. But he still lives on this earth, in the hearts of a hundred million Americans. He and Washington have stood the test of time as no other Americans in history have stood it.

Ferrero quotes a wise old mandarin's reply to one praising the French revolution: "It was a great revolution, but let us wait a little while before we decide how good or bad it was."

No need to wait for a decision about Lincoln. He "died to make men free," to keep brothers united, and "greater love hath no man than this, that he lay down his life for his friend."

Then the poor bears, certain that something had to go down, decided to sell Baldwin Locomotive "short." It went up eight points.

Mr. Bliss goes to Buenos Aires from Sweden, where he has served as Minister since 1923. He has spent practically his entire career in the diplomatic service. After graduating from Harvard in 1900, he served in the office of Secretary of Porto Rico. Since then he has had training in both the consular and diplomatic service, as well as in the Department of State, where for almost a year he was chief of the Division of Western European Affairs. Dr. Crane's Editorial

THREE ELEMENTS OF PROSPERITY

The standing riddle which Europeans cannot understand is how the United States does two things at the same time. That is, how it pays high wages and has low prices.

High wages ought to mean high prices and low prices ought to mean low wages, according to the common understanding.

There are some who think that labor alone produces values. They think of the laboring man as making all of the product of the country, while capitalists and managers merely live off them. Others think that it is the capitalists who are responsible for our prosperity.

On the contrary, prosperity is the result of three things and these three things tend to produce high wages and low prices.

The three things are: First, brains, second, labor, and third, capital.

It is because we have all three of these things in the United States that we prosper.

Of course this implies that we must be at peace. War is purely destructive and the work of construction takes place only in the absence of armed conflict.

You must have labor, of course. There must be certain men willing to work with their hands and to bend their backs in the work of the world. Without this there is no production.

But this work must be intelligently directed. Waste and overhead must be reduced to a minimum and salesmanship must be perfected as a Science. Without brains to direct it labor is a dumb giant. Where there is co-operation between the managers and the laborers and where there is no war between the laborers and society production leans forward.

In addition to this there must be capital to provide the tools and the machinery with which to work.

This is an age of machinery. The population of a country should be estimated in horsepower of machinery rather than in man power of human hands. Capital supplies this machinery and gives the laborer a chance to work profitably.

Russia tried the experiment of laboring without capital and soon collapsed. It cannot be done.

An important element in the prosperity of the country is the large amount of capital accumulated from small sources all over the country. This capital is poured into factories, and mines and fields and gives labor a chance to work advantageously.

These three elements, therefore, will be found to contribute to our success: Labor at good wages, plenty of capital and intelligence to direct the use of both.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

PUBLIC OR PRIVATE

The Federal Government stands willing to build the Boulder Dam on the Colorado River, but there are at least seven Western States vitally interested in the building of this dam, the representatives of which states cannot agree either in State Legislatures, Executive Mansions, or Interstate Conventions, that Boulder, Colorado, is the proper place to build the Dam, and that the Government of the United States is the proper entity to build it. The Edison Company of Southern California would like to build the Dam—would like to build several dams, in fact, on the Colorado River. The company is willing to pay for it itself, sell the water and the power, under the supervision of any Government body, either Interstate or Federal, so long as the Company shall be permitted to take a reasonable return for capital invested.

As a matter of fact, it would be wise to let the Edison Company do it, to save the taxpayer considerable money, and the consumer of the water and the power would be better served, more water, more power, would be distributed by the Edison Company, than by any Governmental Agency, and the price would be reasonable.

German industry under the Empire, was Nationalized in the main, and German citizens became accustomed, just as did the citizens of the other European States to ride on Government owned railways, use Government water and government gas, but with the coming of electric power, and the harnessing of the mountain streams of Europe, there were some German citizens who interested themselves privately in the enterprise, and now there is much concern being expressed in Republican Germany as to whether or not German Government shall form a super state organization to regulate the generation of electricity and high tension transmission. German industry, especially the electro technical industry, is mostly opposed to a centralized super state organization. The heads of the leading electrical supply companies say that they find it more cumbersome and costly doing business with publicly owned power corporations, than those owned privately. They fail to find the same enterprise and interest in improvements in the public companies. Supply companies also contend that the centralized organization is unwise in Germany, owing to the scattered geographical distribution of the coal and water power. They resent heavy taxes, part of which go to subsidize state competitors of private industry.

Strange, isn't it, that Germany so recently Imperial, should discover the things which American business men discovered long ago, to-wit, that no Governmental operation of an industry can economically compete with private enterprise, either as to efficiency or price.

VALENTINE'S DAY

Some with flowers and some with sweets,
Some with books their love declare,
All the world this cry repeats:
"You are fairest of the fair."

World-wide over it's the same,
French, Italian, German, Greek
Kneel before love's altar flame
This one rapturous line to speak.

Every man of us who lives,
Poor of purse or millionaire,
Works and dreams and hopes and gives
For the fairest of the fair.

Lovely woman, it is true
One there is who stands to care
Just because he thinks of you
As the fairest of the fair.

Be you Mabel, Grace or May,
Golden tress or raven hair,
One there is who vows today:
You are fairest of the fair.

BY CHARLES HANSON TOWNE

"The Man," By Wilton Agnew Barrett.

This young American poet has published only one slender volume; yet in it there is compressed much beauty. One feels his exquisite sensitiveness in every line he writes. He has written of the city and its iron wonder and pain, and he has likewise written of the great silences with their peace. He sees both the sorrow and glamour of life, but he never permits himself to grow morbid. His "Songs from the Journey" are the outpourings of a youthful heart, glad and sad by turns.

I have come over bridges of steel
Over ways where I saw great ships
And a mighty city afar;
I have come over rails where I saw
The meadows of July
With myriads of rooted things
Flashing each a shining eye;
And I saw the sky.

Now I come to you, O child,
Here by the town where the train moves slow,
And you stare by the wayside grass,
You, in the dark-haired woman's arms.
Held up in the bosom-tall grass
That your wide, wide eyes may see
The iron servant pass.

And do you read by my face
You have wakened me from my dream
Of the strength of bridges and rails,
The hugeness of cities and ships,
The wide existence of fields—
Do you give me a glance
Grown sudden majestic, O child,
As the heavy trucks clang by?

There on the woman's breast,
You, held up out of the grass,
Are the mightiest thing I have seen!

Consider Tax Revision Bills

State Legislature To Reconvene Tonight For Start Of Seventh Week

MORE BILLS WILL BE GIVEN SESSION

By G. ROSS DOWNING
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 14.—This is the beginning of the seventh week of the state legislature and little more is known of what will eventually take place than that Governor Fisher has left it be known, through public utterances and private conversations, that he now sees little need for a long list of legislative enactments.

This assembly is meeting an often expressed desire for a legislature which would not impose upon the state a chaos of new laws of which the majority of the state's citizens would remain in ignorance or which would add to present complexities.

An election law revision seems to be the most important to be considered by the assembly. Sentiment seems to be running rampant that it is imperative that a reform be had. However, it is probable Governor Fisher will confer with all of those having election legislation views. And, while preparing the governor's suggestions Deputy Attorney General William A. Schnader is studying each bill introduced to see if its provisions embody the thoughts of the executive.

Several bills to accomplish what the legislature believes necessary toward general tax revision were scheduled to be introduced tonight. These included three specific recommendations for general tax reduction, two proposals to lighten the burden of local taxation, commission suggestions for the merging of many specific funds in the treasury, increase in fees for heavy motor trucks and reduction of brokers' license fees.

Two bills will come before the Senate for final action tonight. Both were on the third reading calendar last Tuesday, but were held over. One of them, the McDade bill, would authorize district attorneys to employ finger print experts. The other, by the same author, would permit boards of viewers to employ and pay stenographers.

Included in the 15 bills on the second reading calendar is that of Senator Salus, which would permit the imposing of a death penalty or life imprisonment on bandits found in possession of deadly weapons.

A bill similar to one introduced in the House by Miss Helen Grimes, representative from Allegheny county, fixing the minimum marriage age at 16 years, is also on the second reading calendar, Senator Diax, Philadelphia, being its sponsor.

Another measure up for second consideration is that of Senator Kunkle, Westmoreland, providing for trial of criminal cases without a jury upon agreement between the defendant and the commonwealth.

Only three bills are on the calendar for final passage in the House tonight. One of these, the Marcus bill, would authorize judges of any court in which two separate panels of jurors are in attendance at the same time to draw jurors from either panel when the other panel becomes exhausted.

A bill sponsored by Representative Hall, Dauphin, validating acts done by corporations before the recording of their charters, and the Sterling (Philadelphia) bill, making amendments to an act relating to corporations issuing various classes of stocks, complete the third reading calendar.

Eleven other bills are on third reading, but have been placed on the postponed calender. These, however, may be called up tonight. Nine of them are White House bills repealing obsolete acts.

The House thus far has failed to find its proper stride and each week the prediction is made that perhaps the lower legislative body will get down to intense business the succeeding week. It may be that this week will end with the House busily engaged. More than 600 bills have been thrown into the hopper in the House, and to date comparatively few have been acted upon.

The first of the administration bills will make their appearance this week and will include amendments to the administrative code of 1923 to enable Governor Fisher to carry on his work according to his own ideas. Months ago it was predicted that the whole framework of the code would be changed by the present legislature, but the belief now is that changes will be very few and more or less of a minor nature. One of the biggest changes will provide for the transfer of the budget officer from the Department of State and Finance to the governor's office. Other amendments will make changes in the Department of Mines, Department of Forest and Waters, Department of Internal Affairs.

Prince Comes To City By Auto

Disrupts Plans Made For Greeting Him At Station

ARRIVES IN TIME FOR 4 P. M. PARADE

The stage was all set, so to speak, Saturday afternoon, long before the scheduled time of 3:52 p. m., when Prince William of Sweden was scheduled to arrive.

Hundreds of people were thronging the downtown streets awaiting the procession in which the prince was scheduled to take part.

The ladies of the Quota club, the reception committee of prominent citizens of New Castle and vicinity, the representatives of the Swedish Federation of America, the Boy Scouts, Reserve Officers, Pennsylvania Band were all at the Pennsylvania station awaiting his arrival.

When the message was received that the Prince and his party consisting of Yugve A. Hogsten, secretary of his American tour, P. M. Nielson, lecture manager and valet had missed the train at Pittsburgh and were enroute to this city by automobile.

It looked to many as if Prince William had exercised his royal perogative of doing as he pleased and had upset the plans of the Quota Club.

It was finally decided that the best move was to send a pilot car toward Butler and get the parade participants to Butler avenue and East Washington street to escort him from that point to the Fountain Inn.

The pilot car had hardly started on its way toward Butler, when the Prince and his party arrived, were located by A. W. Chilton, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, taken to the West Side station and the parade held as scheduled. Mill whistles were blown as the parade progressed toward the hotel.

Detective C. G. Logan and Officer John Moore were assigned to protect him while in the city and were on the job as soon as he landed at the Fountain Inn.

His trip here by automobile was the result of his preference to enjoy the open air travel through the country of this district. He had been scheduled to come to this city by special cars on the the train.

He expressed sorrow that he had so nearly disrupted local plans but explained that he was not desirous of fuss or formalities.

He left the hotel at eight o'clock for the Cathedral with his party and two officers in the closed autos. Officer Logan and Secretary Chilton accompanied him in one car, while Officer Moore and the other members of the Prince's party made the trip in the other one. On their arrival at the Cathedral the cars were parked at the rear of the Cathedral until after the lecture was over.

Even Critics Admire Handling Of Chinese Situation By U. S.

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.— Its Chinese policy is a great credit to the Washington government. Even the government's service critics in the Capitol agree to that.

It's true that the United States, like the other powers, has a considerable naval force in Chinese waters, and that the Chinese don't like it.

Astonishing to relate, state department officials, who generally think that anything this country does is all right, and that anybody who objects to it is all wrong, say they don't blame the Chinese for wanting to settle their own quarrel to suit themselves, without outside interference.

* * *

We wouldn't have stood it, when we were having a civil war if, say, the state department officials of some other country had sent a fighting fleet into New York harbor, to train guns on Manhattan Island, or talked about landing marines, to protect its nationals, during the draft riots.

That kind of thing will do in a small muss, but in a full sized war, like the one in China, outside interference isn't international good form and the state department is free to admit it.

Protecting your nationals on the high sea, which belongs to everybody, is one thing, but the foreigner who's ashore in the midst of a war in somebody else's country, must expect to take his chances. That's the state department's view of the situation— in principle.

* * *

In practice, the state department's problem isn't so simple. It has public opinion to reckon with.

Suppose, before the United States entered the World War, some Americans in Paris had been killed by a shot from Germany's 75-mile gun or some American residents of London had had their houses wrecked in a Zeppelin raid. The state department couldn't consistently have been blamed for having had no forces of troops in Paris and London to protect them.

But suppose the Chinese should sack one of the big foreign settlements in their country and murder some Americans—and this government hadn't had some cruisers and marines available to try, at least to prevent it. What a howl would go up! Wouldn't the state department get heck! You know it. So does the state department.

The state department takes precautions because it has to, not matter what it may believe in prfnciple.

* * *

It's to be borne in mind that the leaders of China's warring factions have promised to take good care of foreign lives and property. They refuse to neutralize any foreign zones, but they do say the foreigners in them needn't worry.

The republicans announced this policy when the revolution first broke out in China, around 1911-12.

This wasn't any Boxer uprising, they stated. The Boxers were a lot of ignorant fanatics. They (the republicans) were enlightened liberty lovers and their leaders, at any rate, were largely men of western education—as civilized as anybody.

* * *

So the republicans said. And they made good. From a good bit of personal experience in their fighting areas about the year 1912, I will state that they were more considerate of foreigners than some of the World War leaders a few years later.

It's a policy that has been stuck to ever since. There may have been a little rough work by irresponsible bandits and hoodlums, but not by the regularly enrolled military forces.

So when the Chinese pledge their word not to mistreat foreigners, they've given proofs that it's a promise not to be sneezed at.

Milk Short Course Enrolls 28 Students

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Feb. 14.—Twenty-eight students, representing four states, are enrolled in the market milk and milk condensing short course of the Pennsylvania State College here, C. D. Dahle, in charge of instruction work in dairy manufacturing, announced today. Ohio, Virginia, and Connecticut have contributed one student each to supplement the Pennsylvania contingent.

This division concludes the six weeks' short course in dairy manufacturing which has been an annual service of the college for more than three decades. During that time more than eleven hundred young men have been trained here for responsible positions in creameries throughout the country. The other four weeks were devoted to testing dairy products, manufacturing butter and cheese, and ice cream making.

Among those enrolled in the market milk and milk condensing course is Evelyn Krummenacher, Carrolltown, 17-year-old winner of the 1926 Baltimore and Ohio $100 scholarship awarded to the best 4-H club worker in the 17 counties traversed by that railroad.

Formerly an eight weeks' course was given, but under the present plan many men who would find it impossible to be absent from their plants for the longer period avail themselves of the opportunity to learn what is new in their particular field of work. Those who have had no experience usually take the full course of six weeks.

Opinions Handed Down By Court In Seven Cases

Stockholders Of First State Bank Lose First Round In Assessment Fight

VERDICT SUSTAINED IN COMMISSION CASE

J. Clyde Gilfillan Wins Appeal And Will Get Permit To Erect Building

In the case of Peter G. Cameron, Secretary of Banking, in possession of the First State Bank of New Castle, against Francesco Cardello and others, Judge R. L. Hildebrand handed down an opinion this morning, in which the question of law raised by the affidavit of defense are decided against the defendants, and they are directed to file a supplemental affidavit of defense to the averments of fact in the statement of claim.

This was an action by the plaintiff to enforce the liability of stockholders for an assessment made on them as stockholders to raise funds with which to pay creditors of the bank. Some of the defendants filed an affidavit of defense raising questions of law. The court holds that the section of the banking act under which the suit was instituted does not violate article 3, section 7 of the State Constitution either in regulating the practice in any judicial proceeding or in providing a new method for the collection of debts. In the opinion the action of the banking examiner now is sustained. Stockholders can now take further action if they desire to fight the case.

In the case of Hallie Johnson, for use of Manufacturers Finance Company and Hallie Johnson against the Mercantile Insurance Co. of America, a rule issued Nov. 26th upon defendant to show cause why judgment should not be entered for want of an affidavit of defense, is discharged. Plaintiff sought to recover of defendant company the value of an automobile destroyed by fire. Defendant claimed the policy was issued to plaintiff, "as her interest appeared," and that the plaintiff failed to pay certain notes to the Manufacturers Company and that her contract became null and void in respect to her interest. This is a victory for the defendant.

In the case of George W. Fisher against Theodore G. Tolla and Theodore I. Pappas, the defendants' motion for a new trial and judgment notwithstanding the verdict is overruled and refused. This was a case in which the plaintiff, a real estate broker was awarded a verdict of $1,069.50 against defendants for commission on a real estate deal. The oponion means that the verdict must be paid.

In the case of Adrienne Johnston against Wm. D. Porter and H. E. Helling the several exceptions filed by plaintiff are severally overruled and dismissed. The decree of June 3, 1926 dissolving the preliminary injunction and dismissing the plaintiff's bill is made absolute. This was a case in which plaintiff sought to restrain defendants from erecting a building in Ellwood City, alleging that it violated building restrictions. The opinion means that the building can be erected.

In the matter of the appeal of J. Clyde Gilfillan from the board of appeals refusing to issue a building permit, the decision of the Zoning Board of Appeals is reversed at the cost of the City of New Castle and a building permit is directed to be issued. The permit was asked for a cement block building on Moody avenue, adjoining Gilfillan lumber yard.

In the matter of exceptions filed to the report of viewers on Round street, Union township, the proceedings are set aside. Supervisors claimed they had no notice of a view for the proposed opening of the street.

In the case of Sheriff Harrison M. Reynolds against the County Commissioners, the alternative writ of mandamus is dismissed at the cost of the sheriff. T he action was one to compel payment of the premium on the sheriff's bond. The court holds that the salary act provides for such expenses as may be incurred in the performance of the sheriff's duty, but does not include the payment of a premium on his bond. Other county officers get their premiums on bonds paid but the office of sheriff is not mentioned as one of them. The court states, in his opinion, that it is manifestly unfair that the sheriff alone should be required to pay for his bond, but in the absense of expressed or implied authority, the court is without jurisdiction to order payment of the premium.

SOCIETY WOMAN SUES HUSBAND FOR ACCOUNTING

GENESEO, N. Y., Feb. 14. — Supreme Court Justice Thompson at Canandaigua has issued an order appointing a temporary receiver for Silvanus J. Macy, gentleman farmer and prominent Genesee Valley horseman, it was learned here last night. His wife, Mrs. Suzanna M. Macy, is the plaintiff. She seeks an accounting on six farms they own in Livingston county.

The court action is the result of a $2,000,000 bequest to Mrs. Macy from the Kingsland estate of New York. This money was received in 1920, according to the complaint, and turned over to her husband by Mrs. Macy for investment. The case involved an action in equity for an accounting.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Macy have been especially active in upper Genesee Valley and Rochester society. Macy is one of the leading exhibitors of thoroughbred horses in the east.

Your Smile and Your Teeth

How Movies' $100,000 Smiles are Made Gleaming White

MODERN dental science now has found a way that restores "off-color" teeth to clearness, that gives toneless gums a healthy coral tint.

Famous movie stars use this way before going on a scene. That's why movie smiles glisten so. Leading dentists urge it widely. For it protects the teeth and firms tender gums.

It is called Pepsodent—a new-type tooth paste that works by removing the dingy film coat from teeth that old-time dentifrices did not clear off successfully. That's why brushing has failed you.

Run your tongue across your teeth and you'll feel that film. A slippery coating that absorbs discolorations and keeps your teeth off color, that breeds bacteria and invites tooth decay, gum troubles and pyorrhea.

Remove it and you will be amazed at what you see. Discard old ways now. Get Pepsodent at any drug store. Or send coupon for 10-day tube to try.

Ask Damages For Death Of Son At Pearson Dam Site

The case of Frank W. Dute and wife against the City of New Castle was taken up for trial before Judge Hildebrand this morning. The case is one in which Dutes are suing the city for $10,000 damages for the death of their son, Earl Dute, aged 14 in the dam at the old Pearson mill site, June 10, 1921, when the lad was drowned while bathing.

This is the second trial of the case, the jury having failed to agree at the former trial. The question of whether the dam was officially owned and operated by the city to such an extent that it would be liable for damages, is the question involved.

Howard E. Truby In Mercer Hospital Severely Injured

Howard E. Truby of North Mill street, member of the signal gang of the Pennsylvania Railroad, is confined to the Mercer hospital as a result of having his pelvic bone broken in an automobile accident, which occured recently. He will be confined to the hospital for many weeks on account of his injury and will be compelled to wear a cast for some time in order that the broken bone may heal properly.

He with Messrs. Daniels and Penner had gone to cash their pay checks, riding in a car of which Mr. Penner was the driver. As they reached a point on the Mercer-Stoneboro road below Grove City, there was a gasoline truck and a milk truck at one side of the road. As they approached the milk truck moved out on the road and to avoid a collision, Penner went to one side of the road, with the result that the car in which he and the others were riding turned over three times.

Daniels sustained severe injuries of the arm, while Penner escaped injury. Truby was the more seriously injured of the three men.

Will Question Negro Concerning Skulls Found In His Trunk

(International News Service)

PONTIAC, Mich., Feb. 14.—Prosecutor Clyde D. Underwood of Oakland county, and Police Chief George W. Smith of Ferndale, left for Michigan City Ind., today to question James H. Coyner, a negro, about the discovery of four skulls in an abandoned house in a Royal Oak township home.

"Get my trunk. They might find something else and if they do I'm through forever."

This note from Coyner who is serving a sentence in prison at Michigan City for grave robbing, prompted officers to go to the Indiana city.

The note is said to have been written to Coyner's sister in Chicago.

Until nine months ago Coyner lived in the house in which the trunk and its contents were discovered.

Coyner urged his sister Emma Robinson, to come to Detroit and remove the trunk from the house. In the note he also asked her to smuggle a hacksaw to him in the prison that he might escape before authorities made the discovery. His sister is believed to have communicated with friends here to enlist their aid but without success.

These questions were asked Coyner:

Why was clotted blood on the hair found with the skulls?

What disposition had been made of the torsos?

Where did he get the skulls?

Why did he make feverish attempts to have the trunk removed from the shack?

Why did he keep a notebook with names of prominent Detroit and Pittsburgh society women?

Police in South Bend, Ind., stated the torso of an unidentifed woman found on the banks of the St. Joseph river adjacent to St. Mary's school for girls, might be one of the victims of the negro. It was impossible to determine how long the body had been in the water it was said.

BOY DIES; FATHER KILLS DOCTOR IN BROOKLYN, N. Y.

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—Dr. Casper S. Pendola, Brooklyn physician is dead, his throat severed, his alleged slayer was in prison today charged with the killing, and six young children were fatherless, all due to a parent's ignorance of the nature of antitoxin and his failure to understand that the doctor had done his best for a dying boy.

Joseph Caruso, six years old, died yesterday of diphtheria, a few hours after Dr. Pendola who had been called too late to save the child's life, had administered antitoxin as a last hope. A few minutes after the child's death the doctor made his second call. Frank Caruso, Brooklyn plasterer, father of Joseph, is alleged to have accused Dr. Pendola of responsibility for the child's death and then killed the doctor by cutting his throat with a butcher knife.

The body of the doctor fell within a few feet of the couch on which the body of the dead child lay.

Caruso fled but was arrested a few hours later at the home of a brother.

Dr. Pendola, 27 years old, was married and had one child. He was graduated from Fordham University, and originally came from Scranton, Pa.

Senior High School News

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT

With the beginning of the new semester at the Senior High School, a decided increase in the enrollment in the commercial classes has taken place.

It has been necessary to add another teacher to the commercial "force," this making nine full time teachers in the commercial classes. One can take this convincing proof that the commercial course is rapidly becoming one of the most important courses offered in the high school curriculum.

In days gone by, business and education had little in common. Business men looked on education as something "not practical." But the past fifteen years has seen a great change, both in education itself, and in the business man's attitude toward it. The inclusion of commercial subjects in the high school is producing a practical type of education that the business man can understand and appreciate. Just as education depends on business for support, so business has education is essential in training the youth our country for participation in modern commercial affairs.

Business is growing more complex, and correspondingly education is growning broader and more practical. The old prejucice between the two fast disappearing, and business men are coming to realize that the two are not autogonistic, but are mutuall helpful.

If the benefit is going to be mutual, then the sacrifice which produces the benefit should be mutual. Bringing this to New Castle, the business man and teachers of commercial subjects must cooperate; they must work together. Naturally, the teacher stresses the "theoretical", while the business man strongly advocates the "pratical." They need to get one anothers view-point. Taking every thing into consideration the commercial teacher has probably been as much, or more at fault than the business man. But if progress is to be made, they must get together.

Now there are several ways in which this can be done. The commercial teachers are taking the first steps by studying their present "course of study" to determine if the correct course of study is being used. This plan was initated by Dr. C. C. Greene, and is being worked out in connection with the general curriculum study, in addition to the commercial work takes up all other branches of the school. Before the year is out, the business man of New Castle will be asked to criticize this method. If we commercial teachers are not teaching what you business men want, then we would like to have you tell us. We would like to have you take some time from your business days, and visit our classes and tell us if we are giving the boy or girl the kind of study that will enable them to take a place in modern commercial affairs. You business men, and you alone, can tell us this, because you come in contract daily with the modern business world, and you know what we desire to learn. A new Commercial Club has been formed this year, and invitations will be given business men to talk at some of their meetings. When this time comes, please do not turn us down if you are invited, for a club that will include those who will be working for you will deserve your support.

Suggests Gas Tax Be Collected From Big State Wholesalers

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 14. — Collection of the gasoline tax from the big wholesalers, instead of from individual filling stations and pumps, is advocated by Pennsylvania Motor Federation.

"The state of Pennsylvania loses a large sum or money annually because it attempts the almost impossible task of collecting all the two-cent tax from the 25,000 individual retailers," said President Richard C. Haldeman of the Motor Federation. "It is my personal opinion—and the opinion of the Federation, that the tax actually collected exceeds by $200,000 annually the amount received by the Commonwealth. If tax moneys are collected they should be turned over to the Commonwealth. It was not the purpose of the law to provide an extra source of revenue for dealers whose ideas of honesty are oblique. The present system is cumbersome and expensive, requiring a great deal of unnecessary work in the auditor general's office. To collect the two cents per gallon from the original source is the logical method."

Figures of gasoline tax revenues for 1926 are not yet available, but the total will approximate $12,000,000, it is believed. Of this sum one-quarter is returned to the counties in which the tax is collected. The average gasoline consumption per car per year for the United States is 375 gallons. At this rate Pennsylvania's 1,490,874 cars and trucks would pay a tax of $11,181, 555.

"But," said Mr. Haldeman, "State Highway department statistics show that ten percent of the machines on the road in Pennsylvania are foreign cars. In other words, 149,087 cars from the state border are continually operating in this state. They burn gasoline, too—and on the 375-gallon average their consumption annually approximates a two-cent tax of $1,118,155. Add that amount to the tax paid by Pennsylvania machines. The grand total is $12,299,710. The receipts for 1926 will approximate $12,000,000. Where did the balance of the money go?

"It is the understanding of the Motor Federation that the cost of tax collection is less than one percent, but even this could be reduced were the tax taken at the source. The auditor general has six inspectors in the gasoline bureau. When the reports of the distributors are checked against tax money turned in by retailers some odd facts are uncovered. But there are 25,000 retailers in Pennsylvania, and to check each of them each quarter would require a young army of men. In the meantime, taxes are being collected which do not get to the State treasury because some individual retailers are dishonest."

Pimples, Boils, Skin Eruptions

Skilled physicians recognize the appearance of pimples, boils and other skin eruptions as being an indication of an abnormal condition of the system. This is why so many thousands have been enabled to free themselves of these unsightly blemishes and painful annoyances by taking a course of S. S. S. You owe it to yourself to try S. S. S. It helps nature build up red corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the blood is nourished. It is time-tried and reliable.

"I suffered from impure blood—was weak, and I had lost so much weight I didn't look natural. I had pimples and was also bothered with a breaking out that itched terribly. I also had boils one after another. I tried different kinds of remedies, but nothing did me any good until a friend advised me to take S. S. S., which I did. This was some time ago. Now I feel well, and I am getting along fine. S. S. S. stopped the itching and it cured me of boils. I advise all weak and run-down people to give S. S. S. a trial. It clears up the skin and makes you strong and fills you with energy." Mrs. J. W. Barker, 1337 Walnut street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

S. S. S. is made from the fresh roots of medicinal herbs and plants and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

A THREE DAYS COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all know drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory disease, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Southern Floods Costing Millions, Animals Suffer

(International News Service)

MEMPHIS, Feb. 14.—Behind the pathetic scenes of recent floods which drove thousands of families from their homes, caused millions of dollars damage and much suffering in southeastern Missouri and eastern Arkansas, lie many unusual stories.

Moonshiners lost hundreds of stills. Here and there floating in the flood waters were parts of stills. Other stills were washed to shore. Many back in the dense woods used by 'shiners were destroyed.

Snakes awakened from their winter slumber two full months before they intended to be disturbed were driven to railroad beds and hills. Others were found floating in driftwood.

Rabbits were killed by the hundreds. They too had fled for their lives. Hunters using rowboats had but to sit and shoot them down on the high spots.

Possums and coons unable to leave their places in the trees had not been wise like squirrels and laid in a supply of food were suffering from hunger. Many of them were taken by hunters and rescue workers alive. Many have ben made pets.

A chicken and a dog were found riding a large piece of driftwood. A snake was on the other side coiled up and angry.

Cats and dogs were found sleeping on floating beds. Rocking chairs used as boats were occupied by various species of domestic animals and fowls. A hen had used a floating horse collar as a nest and laid three eggs when found.

Many Visit Penn State For Week End

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Feb. 14.—Pennsylvania State College students observed the opening of their mid-winter social season over the week-end when the annual Senior Ball attracted several hundred girl friends of fourth year men. The students had arranged an attractive program which included the ball in the armory on Friday night, boxing and basketball contests and presentation of "The Rear Car" by the Penn State players on Saturday, and a free concert by the college glee club this afternoon in the auditorium, opening the annual mid-winter series of Sunday afternoon musical concerts.

Scientist thinks the first man may have been a woman. It's unimportant. She's first now anyhow.

Capture Suspect In "Terror Reign" At Ambridge, Pa.

Negro Bandit Held In Jail Believed Man Responsible For Attacks

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 14.—County detectives today expressed the belief that the reign of terror caused by the "praying bandit" in Ambridge and other Beaver valley towns is at an end. Haywood Wilson, 32-year-old negro, held in jail here, has been identified by nine of the bandit's victims as their assailant.

While Wilson denied the charge, he admitted to detectives, they say, that he had been in an insane asylum in Virginia prior to his coming here. Other victims will try to identify Wilson before charges are filed against him.

Says Organized Labor Has No Use For Saloon Return

WESTERVILLE, O., Feb. 14.—Organized labor can no longer be considered wet, according to a statement issued here today by Dr. F. Scott MeBride, general superintendent of the Anti Saloon League of America.

In substantiating this statement, Dr. McBride asserted that the Union Laborer Advocate of Chicago, in its current issue, declares workingmen are not wet and that "no single class of our people has benefitted more from prohibition than the laboring people. They have labor temples and banks today in place of dingy quarters, and they settle their disputes without drink-caused riots."

The Advocate says deposits in labor banks in the United States now total more than $11,000,000, and that there were no labor banks before prohibition. It also points out that workingmen under prohibition have increased their savings accounts and are a factor in the general prosperity of the country, as the sober working has increased his buying capacity, and that this aids all legitimate industry.

"No, organized labor is too wise to want to go back to the old saloon days," says The Union Laborer Advocate which is now entering upon its twenty-sixth year.

Citizens Of U. S. Have More Money Under Prohibition

WESTERVILLE, O., Feb. 14.—Assets of building and loan associations in the United States have almost tripled since national prohibition became effective January 16, 1920, according to a statement issued here today by national headquarters of the Anti Saloon League of America.

"The fact that the American people have more money to invest in legitimate business enterprises, is the strongest argument for the continuance of prohibition in this country," the statement said. "From an economic viewpoint alone, there is every reason who prohibition and prosperity should be continued."

The statement quoted figures of the national Building Association League to show that in 1919, the year before the advent of prohibition, assets of building and loan companies amounted to $2,126,620,390 as compared with $6,280,000,000 in 1926. The number of building and loan associations increased from 8,000 to 12,800 in the same period, and the number of depositors from 4,964,000 to 11,275,000.

No. 25

To obtain a deduction for traveling expenses, which form an important item in the returns of many taxpayers, certain regulations must be observed. The taxpayer is required to attach to his return a statement showing the nature of business in which engaged, number of days away from home during the taxable year on account of business, total amount of expenses incidental to meals and lodging while absent from home on business, and total amount of "other expenses incidental to travel and claimed as a deduction." Among the "other expenses" are tips, which are held to be a part of traveling expenses, provided they are reasonable in amount.

Traveling expenses are deductible only when the trip is on business. They are limited to such expenses as are reasonable and necessary in the conduct of the business and directly attributable to it. Examples are payment for the use of a sample room or the hire of vehicles in visiting customers.

If a person whose business requires him to travel receives a salary as full compensation for his services, without reimbursement for traveling expenses, or is employed on a commission basis with no expense allowance, his traveling expenses, including the entire amount expended for meals and lodging, are deductible from gross income.

If a person receives a salary and is also repaid his actual traveling expenses, he must include in his gross income the amount so repaid, and may deduct such expenses.

Traveling expenses incurred in connection with a journey to another city to accept or seek employment are not deductible. Suburbanites who commute daily from their homes to their places of business are not permitted to deduct the cost of transportation, it being a personal expense. Claims for deductions for traveling expenses must be substantiated, when required by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, by records showing in detail the amount and nature of the expenses incurred.

Unusual Number Of Debutantes To Bow Before Royalty

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Feb. 14. —Although the dates will not be submitted to King George for his approval until the Court returns to London from Sandringham, it is understood that the first two of this year's Royal Courts will probably be held on consecutive evenings during the last week in May and the latter two early in June.

Invitation lists to the four Courts have now closed. From the huge mail-bag received by the Court Chamberlain during the period in which the lists were open, it is certain that hardly half of those people seeking invitations will cross the portal of the State Apartments at Buckingham Palace this summer.

Society is speculating about the regulations which will be issued as usual by the Court Chamberlain to govern attendance at the Courts. Last year, it will be remembered, the regulations conflicted with the prevailing fashion in such matters as sleeves, trains and the length of the skirt.

It seems, however, that this year this matter will be left to the good taste of the debutanes presented rather than be made a matter of official enforcement. Semi-official denial is given to many reports that King George has asked the Chamberlain to alter the regulations with a view to discouraging cropped and shingled hair.

It is generally expected that approximately the same number of American debutantes will make their curtesy before the King and Queen this year as last. Ambassador and Mrs. Alanson B. Houghton will shortly have the unenviable task of deciding who these will be.

Resume Hearing In Ford Company Extra Tax Case

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—The government today opened up its heavy artillery before the U. S. board of tax appeals to break down the contention of former minority stockholders of the Ford Motor Company that the Treasury's assessment of over $30,000,000 in extra taxes was unjustified.

Solicitor of Internal Revenue A. W. Gregg, opening the Treasury's case, declared that Ford motor stock in 1918 was worth from $2,500 to $6,500 a share, in contrast to the $9,500 valuation claimed by Senator James Couzens, Republican, of Michigan, the Dodge estate and other stockholders.

Valuation of stock in 1913, upon which depended the profits made by the minority stockholders when they sold out to Henry Ford in 1919, is the principal contention. This figure will fix the income tax liability of the stockholders.

One of the older girls took the girls still working on their tenderfoot tests to one side and helped them, while the captain Miss Gilkey instructed the other girls in signalling.

After the meeting the girls played basketball in the Y. W. gymnasium. The meeting closed with the goodnight circle and taps. Mrs. Hanger was a special guest at the meeting. The next meeting will be in one week at the usual time.

OATS HUSKS, ONCE WASTE, TURNED INTO VALUABLE CHEMICAL

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—Oat husks once purely waste, have been turned into an economic salvage which consulting engineers think may some day lead to big changes in the chemical industry.

Carl S. Miner, consulting engineer, six years ago, was retained by the Quaker Oats Company to learn what could be done with their 200 tons daily waste in oats chaff. He knew furfural—a liquid distillate—could be obtained from the husks, for Dobereiner, a German chemist, had discovered it.

Miner found the process for utilizing the product which today is being produced at the rate of 200 pounds from each ton of chaff. The product is being used in manufacturing bakelite, dyes, lacquer and varnish and vulcanization of rubber and phonograph records.

What Becomes Of Old Newspapers Used Here?

What happens to the newspapers after they are read? Generally mother gathers them up and sells them to the "junk man" or some charitable society gathers them from the household and they are sold for a small profit.

But what does the "junk man" do with them? He sorts them over separating the best paper from the cheaper grades and sells them to a large dealer who again sorts and classifies them and bales them and sells to paper manufactures.

The paper manufacturer dumps them into a tub where they are soaked into a pulp and made into a new paper product.

A survey of the waste materials industry recently made in Chicago shows that more than $50,000,000 are saved from the utilization of waste paper every year in the United States. In the city of New York alone, the survey reveals, approximately 5,000 tons of waste paper are collected and reclaimed every week.

The different products that are made from the waste paper are endless almost. A man may read his newspaper some evening and six months later go to live in a building that has that same newspaper somewherein the walls of the building, or he may ride in a car that his former friend of the evening somewhere in the make up of the car.

Theres one record of an interesting case in which a paper manufacturer wanted a grayer paper than he had been using. Did he mix pigment into his paper? He did not. He simply bought a quantity of old black stockings from his waste materials dealer and mixed these in with his waste paper and proceeded to turn out a paper that was "mist gray." So who knows but that the newspaper you read and the stockings that she said were too far gone to mend, may both meet in the gray tinted wall paper you bought and placed on your dining room walls.

Piles Disappear

No Cutting Or Salves Needed

External treatments seldom banish Piles and for the very good reason that the cause is inside—bad circulation in affected parts, veins are flabby and bowel walls weakened.

To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—send fresh, healthy blood to the raw, sensitive membranes. Internal treatment is one safe method. Ointments and other external treatments can't give lasting relief.

J. S. Leonhardt, M. D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and it has proven successful in thousands of cases—so successful that now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists under a money back guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at McKee's Kut Rate Store, Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., who will promptly refund the purchase price if you are dissatisfied.

Cloture May Be Invoked

Senate May Take Unusual Action On McFadden-Pepper Bill

WOULD SHUT OFF DEBATE TUESDAY

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Somewhat paralleling the famous battle of Andrew Jackson against the United States Bank, Senate insurgents today waged war against further extension of the Federal Banking system by opposing enactment of the McFadden-Pepper Branch Banking Act.

Jackson drove the U. S. Bank out of existence, but the insurgent bloc faced almost certain defeat. A cloture petition, signed by 58 Senators, lay on the desk of Vice President Dawes to be submitted to the senate at 1 o'clock tomorrow for a vote on the question of shutting off further debate. As supporters of the bill command more than enough votes to adopt cloture, a final vote enacting the bill will be taken by the Senate sometime Wednesday, it then will go to the President.

The action of the banking leaders in actually invoking cloture for the third time in the present generation created considerable bad feeling. Opponents of the bill charged the measure was being "railroaded" through Congress and that they were being "steam-rollered."

Provisions of Bill

The provisions of the bill, which will have a far reaching influence upon American banks, are:

1. Granting an indeterminate charter to the Federal Reserve charter for the existing one, which expires in 1934.

2. Permitting national banks to engage in the investment business, by which they can use savings deposits—under certain conditions—to purchase real estate.

3. Allowing national banks to establish branch banks within the limits of the city in which the parent bank is located, if the state laws permit branch banking by state banks.

4. Allowing a state bank, which has branch banks "up-state" or outside the city in which the parent bank is located, to bring all these branches into the Federal system if the state bank becomes a national bank.

The first two of these provisions aroused the greatest opposition from the insurgents. They asked why the Federal Reserve system was being given an indeterminate charter seven years before the present charter expires and charged such action would establish the Reserve system as a "financial octopus" over American business. They also charged the "investment provision" would permit national banks to gamble in real estate, speculation and the brokerage business.

Dr. Grant, Modernist, Dies In Hospital After An Operation

MOUNT KISCO, N. Y., Feb. 14.—Rev. Percy Stickney Grant former rector of the Church of the Ascension, New York city, died Sunday at the Northern West Chester hospital. He underwent an operation for appendicitis there Tuesday.

Dr. Grant had been living in retirement at his country home in Bedford village Westchester county since his resignation from the Church of the Ascension in June, 1924 after 31 years service there.

At that time he gave length of service and illness as reasons for resignation.

Dr. Grant's controversy with Bishop Manning of New York because of Dr. Grant's modernistic tendencies as well as his engagement to Mrs. Rita De Acosta Lydig which was broken in May, 1924, made him the center of a heated theological discussion.

Anyway, the lawyers can't grab Chaplin's biggest asset—the good will of American kids.

MARTYR TO PAIN FOR 16 YEARS

Finds relief after spending much money in vain

After spending a great deal of money on medicines without results, a woman who had suffered from a long-standing case of rheumatism, got quick and complete relief by a simple home treatment.

"I have suffered from rheumatism for 16 years and I have spent a great deal of money in trying to get something which would ease the pain," she writes. "I am grateful to say that in Sloan's Liniment I have found instant relief."

Sloan's helps when other remedies fail because Sloan's doesn't just deaden the nerves. It stirs up the bodily forces to throw off the poisons that are causing the pain. Then relief comes as a natural consequence.

So easy, pleasant and clean to use, too. You don't even have to rub it in. Just apply gently, and the medicine brings the relief.

Get a bottle today and have it on hand. All druggists—35 cents.

Rejoice Over High School Victory Of Princton School

(Special To The News)

PLAINGROVE,, Feb. 14.—Spirits of the students here are certainly not at a low ebb. Members of the school and community who, Friday night, braved the roughness of the roads leading to Volant didn't seem to notice the jolts at all during the return trip.. Ethereally speaking they were riding on air, for their forensic team had won the evening.

But it was by no means a walkaway. Volant's representatives did remarkably well. People who had witnessed the same debate team in action last year expressed the opinion that Friday night's display was a 50 per cent improvement. The margin between the ability of the contestants from both schools was slight and no one particularly envied the judges their job.

The Plaingrove debaters must now scrap their affirmative speeches and revamp some negative ideas for February 25 when they will meet Princeton in the Plaingrove Presbyterian church.

Over 70 people in this school are still recounting the enjoyments of their trip to New Castle to witness the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra and are only hoping that the Educational Art society makes possible more such splendid opportunities.

PETERS ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

By Florence Smith Vincent

FOUR BROWN COATED BEES FLEW OFF TO CARRY THE INVITATION TO THE MEADOW PEOPLE.

Old Man of the Meadow, Host

Then bedlam broke loose in the blue-flag clump and Peter's words came tumbling over one another so fast that the little girl laughed and Pat, puzzled, cocked his shaggy head, trying his best to make out what his master was talking about.

"Well, then, let's have a party! But who's to give it? I!" "No, I!" "But 'tis my turn next!"

All this while the noisy crowd kept well out of sight. Pat, who hated mysteries, wanted to poke his head into the blue-flag clump and find out who was who, but it wouldn't have done him a bit of good. The folks would have been gone soon as he got there. And now Locust came to the fore again.

"Silence, friends, and listen to me. He who has the finest lawn, greenest lawn, must give the party, and who else can boast a yard like Old Man of the Meadow?"

"Yip! Zip! Zzzzzzz! Buzzz! That settles it! Old Man of the Meadow shall give the party!" The voices were in chorus now, all but one that was very faint and trembly.

"Oh me, oh my! I think I'm going to die! Fancy my playing host to all you folks! Not but what you're welcome, of course, but oh dear me!" The faint voice grew stronger. "Yet if I must I must, and I will. And it shall be a party you shall all long remember. I have it! The daisies and buttercups shall be the grandstand seats; the crickets and the hoppers shall be the band. Good friends, one and all, you are invited to the Grasshoppers' Ball down in Cowslip Meadow!"

Four brown-coated Bees flew off to carry the invitation to the Meadow people, and soon from far and wide came the insects flying. And soon the blue-flag clump was well-nigh hidden by the winged bodies.

"Reminds me of a story I once heard," barked Pat to Peter. "'Twas a sad story, too, all about insects that fell upon a land by the thousands and thousands and ate up all the grass and the grain, even to the last little bit, so there was nothing left in the fields for the people of that land to feed upon. And when the wicked Locusts—that's what mother called them—had finished their feast they flew on, and in the land over which they had passed there was much misery, for the people were hungry."

OVERLANDS DEFEAT ELECTRICS IN FAST GAME 32-29

Merchants Top P. R. R. Quintet

Extra Five-Minute Period Gives Overlands Brilliant Victory

MERCHANTS RUN WILD SATURDAY

By "BUGS" WALTHER

Two fast games featured the playing in the City Industrial Floor League on Saturday night at the Y. M. C. A. court. In the first game of the program the Merchants defeated the P. R. R. team, 42 to 24. The second game was a thriller, with the Overlands downing the P. & O. Electrics, 32 to 29, in a game that required an extra five-minute period.

The Overlands by their victory Saturday night practically cinched the championship of the second half of the league season. The Electrics, with a vastly improved lineup, held the league leaders on even terms for the entire four quarters and drew up in a deadlock at 27-27 as the regulation game ended. In the extra session the Overlands outscored the Electrics, five to two, to gain their victory.

Thrilling Battle

The game was one of the most thrilling of the league season to date and kept a large crowd of followers of the game interested throughout. The score at the end of the first half favored the Overlands, 14 to 11. Cuba and Uhle were the leading scorers for the Overlands in the first half, while Drumm, Buckingham and Diffley kept the Electrics in the running. The Electrics came back strong in the third and fourth quarters and led by Buckingham and Drumm, with three baskets apiece, outscored the Overlands by three points, or just enough to tie the count.

The playing of Uhle, with five baskets, was the outstanding feature for the Overlands. Buckingham and Drumm were the most consistent scorers for the losers.

Merchants Win Again

The East Side Merchants in the evening had things their own way with the Pennsy tossers. The final score was 42 to 24. The game, despite the fact that it was lopsided, was interesting and hardfought.

The Merchants took an early lead and at the end of the first half were ahead, 23 to 11. Johnny Eagleson, with nine baskets, was the shining light of the game, while M. Kerr, with four buckets, aided the Merchants in their victory.

The Merchants by their victory advanced to a tie with the Tin Mill for second place in the league standing. The East Side boys flashed a fast game Saturday night and their passing and shooting was a feature.

For the Pennsy quintet the work of Reider, Solomon and Kroen was the best.

Franklin Golf Pro. Secures New Berth

FRANKLIN, Pa., Feb. 14.—James MacGregor, who resigned as professional golfer of the Wanango Country Club, has taken a similar position with the Agwam Club of Providence, R. I., it was announced today.

Boston has the only crippled children basketball teams in the country

SPORTS DONE BROWN

If you would see the great center fielders of baseball play this year, go east, young man, go east. For that's where the great roamer of the wide open spaces are migrating these days. There's only one great centerfielder left in the western sector of the majors these days, Johnny Mostil of the White Sox.

* * *

The recent acquisition of Eddie Roush by the Giants, marks the departure of the third great outfielder for the east in a space of two weeks. Tris Speaker signed with Washington, Cobb with the Athletics, and Roush with the Giants, leaving Cleveland, Detroit and Cincinnati, respectively, without their center fly hawks.

Incidentally, the signing of Eddie Collins by the Athletics at an earlier date, gives the east a total of four outstanding stars of the western orbit.

* * *

KELLY BOOKED FOR THE OUTFIELD

While on the subject of outfielders it might be interesting to pass along the word that George Kelly, sent to the Reds for Roush, is destined to play in the outer defense for the Redlegs.

* * *

Kelly was the only first baseman — and a mighty acceptable one with the Giants—for several seasons. McGraw thought so much of Long George's hitting and ability around the first sack that the nephew of old Bill Lange wasn't considered a trading horse.

* * *

Then along came Bill Terry, pitcher, first baseman and general utility man from Toledo. About that time old Joe Jinx came along also and McGraw, in a desperate effort to grab a pennant with a crippled team, moved Kelly to second base and the outfield to plug up various gaps and used Terry at first. This stocky little gent proceeded to play first so capably that McGraw decided he could dispense with Kelly.

* * *

Kelly goes to a team boasting a good, though venerable first baseman in Wallie Pipp, one-time "Pickler" with the Yankees. Pipp went at a great pace last season and until he falters or slips a cog Kelly will play the outfield. Wallie Christensen, Bill Zitzmann, Curtis Walker and Rube Bressler shared the honors last year. Bressler acted as utility outfielder, first baseman, pinch hitter or what have you.

I WAS JUST THINKING ABOUT—

Eddie Grant, former third baseman of the Giants, one of the first major leaguers to answer the call in the World War days. He was killed by a shell while leading (he was a captain) a unit to the aid of the famous "Lost Battalion."

Fast Games In City League At Y. M. C. A. Tonight

Overlands And Merchants To Clash; Tin Mill Meets Mahoning A. A.

Two fast games are billed in the City Industrial Floor League at the Y. M. C. A. for tonight. The first game of the program will start at 8 o'clock and will bring together the Tin Mill and Mahoning A. A. quintets. In the second game on the menu the Rick-Overlands and East Side Merchants will clash.

The Tin Mill team through their past showing are rated slightly better than the Mahoning team, and they are favorities to cop the battle. The Rick-Overlands are undefeated to date and should retain their clean slate tonight. The Merchants will give the league leaders a hard fight acording to the dope.

As the situation stands the Overlands look like champions in the second-half of the season. The Tin Mill boys won the first half and it is altogether likely that the Overland and Tin Mill will clash for the City championship. The Overlands can clinch the flag by a victory tonight over the strong Merchant crew.

Mighty Meredith — By Feg Murray

The annual indoor games of the New York Athletic Club tonight bring to mind one of the greatest runners that ever wore the Winged Foot emblem, one who was, in my estimation, the greatest runner that ever lived for sheer power and fighting heart.

After seeing Ted Meredith win both the quarter and the half in the "Intercollegiates" at Cambridge in May, 1916, beating fields that included Bingham, Willcox, Scudder, Windnagle and Overton, and setting new records of .47-2-5 and 1.53, respectively, for the two races within two hours' time. I was satisfied there would never again be another runner like him.

A couple of weeks before this meet, Ted had set a new world's record for 880 yards, cutting three-tenths of a second off of his own record of 1.52⅕, set in 1912, and it was this latter record that the German, Dr. Peltzer, broke last summer. I asked Ted about this recently, and he told me that he always thought the mark could be broken, and went on to relate the circumstances under which it had been set.

It was in the Penn-Cornell dual meet in May, 1916, and as Penn was being badly beaten, Coach Lawson Robertson decided not to run Meredith in both the 440 and 880, as was his custom, and suggested that Ted try for a new half-mile record. Ted said he would if he found himself keeping to Robby's time schedule, which called for the first quarter in :53, and the 660 in 1.23.

Let Ted go on wth the story.

"The first quarter was in :54 4-5, and when announced to me I gave up and was relieved that I did not have to try further. However, the boys were all up with me, and I thought I would go the next part at a good pace to kill them off and then loaf home. The result was I hit the 660 on schedule, and after leaving there, Windnagle, Cornell's best, came up on my shoulder and I had to race all the way to the tape to get rid of him. Time 1.52 1-5.

"I was surprised at the time at Windnagle, but the answer was that I carried a miler along at an even pace and let him do his very best. A fast first quarter would have killed Windnagle, I think, and I then could have come home at will, since he was a miler with very little quarter-mile speed, but wonderful staying powers. He won the Inter-collegiate mile that year, beating Johnny Overton by the same staying power—time 4.15 2-5, I think.

Feg Murray Says—

"Where are they running?" asked the flapper, whose boy friend was taking part in a track meet that night, of the door-keeper at the athletic club. But just then she noticed a sign on the elevator that said "NOT RUNNING," and so went away disappointed.

SORDS POINTS

Mr. Lomski's No Lamski And Can Slamski

By NORMAN E. BROWN.

The Pacific Coast believes that Leo Lomski is destined to bring that section—once the homeland of champs—the middleweight crown now sported by Mickey Walker.

Lomski most boxing fans will recall is the young man who startled the boxing world the other day by outfighting, outboxing and outsmarting Tiger Flowers, popular negro and former king of the middleboys.

And the coast fans are so sure that Lomski has the stuff that champs are made of that they are crying for a battle between the Irish-Pole and Walker

The western sector had heard of Lomski before the Flowers fight and those who had watched Lomski closely weren't much surprised at his victory I am informed.

Lomski used his head to advantage in his battle with Flowers. A coast friend writes me that after trying in vain to swap punches with Flowers for three rounds Lomski started circling the negro, forcing the former champ to miss his left swings. Then Lomski would drive a counter punch to his opponent's body.

Back in the fall of 1925 Lomski gave the pug bugs something to rave about. Bert Colima pride of the California fans was spilling his opponents right and left when he tackled Leo. The latter put an awful crimp in Bertram's plans by socking him on the well known button in the second round.

While his oppinents since then have not been from the "400" ranks he has turned in a nice string of victories.

An interesting angle of his career is the fact that he did not start fighting in earnest until he was 20. He is now 24. In his four years in the ring he has been defeated but four times. He is married and a daddy. Which indicates that he has adopted fighting as a business rather than a pastime.

Boy's League To Have Meeting At Y. M. C. A. Tonight

The managers of the various teams in the Boy's league at the Y. M. C. A. will hold an important meeting tonight at 8 o'clock. The meeting will be held in the office of Walter E. Kirker, physical director.

It is very important that all managers attend the meeting tonight. Plans for the second half of the schedule will be taken up for discussion and a program outlined.

The Athletics are champions of the first half and while the schedule is not quite complete it is apparent that the other teams cannot overtake the league leaders.

Third U. P. Five Trims Jacksville

The third U. P. church defeated the Jacksville tossers 25 to 17, in a game played at the Rose Avenue gym floor. The game was closely contested and was not decided until the final minutes of play.

McClymonds and Mansfield were the leading scorers for the Third U. P. team, with C. Studebaker and Book the best for the losers.

The lineup:

Third U .P.		Jacksville
McClymonds	F	Humphrey
Mansfield	F	C. Studebaker
A. McNickle	C	D. Studebaker
McKnight	G	R. Humphrey
R. McNickle	G	McCleary

Referee—Henry McNicholas.

German Wins From Dutch Heavyweight

DORTMUND, Germany, Feb. 14. Franz Diener, the German champion heavyweight, entering the ring for the first time since returning from America, barely succeeded in scoring a point victory over the Dutch heavyweight, Piet Vanderveer, in a 10-round bout.

The fighters did not warm up to their work until the late rounds, when Diener landed a few swings, thus gaining several points and holding the advantage until the finish.

Marcella Grocers Re-Organize Quint For Floor Games

For Fifth Season Grocers Will Take To Court; Play Falcons Tuesday

The Penn Five basketball team has re-organized for their fifth season, and will be known as the Marcella Grocers. The Grocers will have in their lineup some of the best floor material in the city.

The team roster will likely contain the following well known South Side players: Fred Marcella, Carl Gennock, Dave Rogovin, Hank Nocera, Johnny Lewis, Kenny Van Fossan, Harold Harris, John Mariacher and Frank Marcella.

Gennock and Frank Marcella have had two years experience under Coach McCombs former Ben Franklin high mentor. Van Fossan, Harris and Mariacher played under the banner of the Lincoln Five, while Fred Marcella, Rogovin, Lewis and Nocera played with the original Penn Five.

The Grocers will open their season on Tuesday night by meeting the Polish Falcons on the Falcon court. The Falcons are highly touted and will give the Grocers a hard battle.

The Grocers would like to play the Mahoning A. A. Thursday evening and would also like to play the Imperials or Central Christians next Wednesday. For games get in touch with Fred Marcella by calling 858. Bessemer Pirates and Wampum Indies should also get in touch with Marcella.

Athletics And Bearcats Win League Games

Athletics By Defeat Of Buccaneers Win Championship Of First Half

The Athletics defeated the Buccaneers, 16 to 12, in a Boys' League game played at the Y. M. C. A. on Saturday afternoon and thereby captured the championship of the first half of the league race. In the other game played Saturday the Bearcats downed the Croton Scouts, 28 to 12.

The Athletics had to come from behind to secure their victory over the Buccaneers. The first half ended 11 to 7 in favor of the Buccaneers, but the spurt of the Athletics in the third and fourth quarters proved sufficient to overtake the fast-stepping "Bucs". Vago, Pittaway and Mancine brought victory to the Athletics by their fine playing in the last half of the game.

The Bearcats had an easy time with the Croton Scouts in the second game of the program. The score at half time favored the Bearcats, 13 to 7. Fifteen points in the third and fourth quarters gave the Bearcats a victory of more than two to one over their opponents.

The work of Lemer and Tesone featured for the Croton team, while the playing of Brown, with eight field goals, was the outstanding feature for the winners, while Brenner and Sergant also played a strong game.

The line-ups and summaries of both games:

Loughran Favored To Defeat Risko

(International News Service)

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Feb. 14.—Johnny Risko, Cleveland, and Tommy Loughran, Philadelphia, had completed their training today for their encounter here tomorrow night in the first heavyweight decision battle in the hard coal fields in a decade.

With Loughran the outstanding challenger of Delaney and Risko counting among the first half dozen for a crack at Tunney, enthusiasm is running high among the fans. Indications pointed to a new attendance record. Loughran was a six to five favorite and Risko had many supporters.

Joe Stryker, a "kid brother" of Irving Stryker, formerly with the Giants, will be given a trial by Manager McGraw this spring. Joe pitched semi-pro ball with a team in New Jersey last season and is said to have displayed considerable class as a mound artist.

Tom Sullivan, the New Zealander who once held the British sculling championship, is now a rowing coach in Berlin.

High Team At Zelienople On Tuesday Night

New Castle To Make First Journey To Zelienople Floor

LOCALS FAVORED TO COP VICTORY

The New Castle High quintet will journey to Zelienople tomorrow night for a Section IV battle. The locals are undefeated to date, and from all indications they will go through the season with a clean slate.

The locals defeated Zelienople, 35 to 19, in a game played at the Senior High court a few weeks ago, and the Red and Black team is anxious to repeat this performance.

The Red and Black clad tossers have been idle since last Tuesday night, when they defeated the Tech Freshmen, but Coach Bridenbaugh has kept them in training throughout the week.

A stiff workout was to be indulged in today at the Senior High court in preparation for the Zelienople game. The Butler county passers are figured to give the locals plenty of opposition on their home floor.

As the league situation stands today the New Castle aggregation can just about cinch the championship of Section IV of the W. P. I. A. L. by a victory over Zelienople tomorrow night, providing that Ellwood City defeats Butler on the Butler court.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

Behind The Confederate Lines. by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

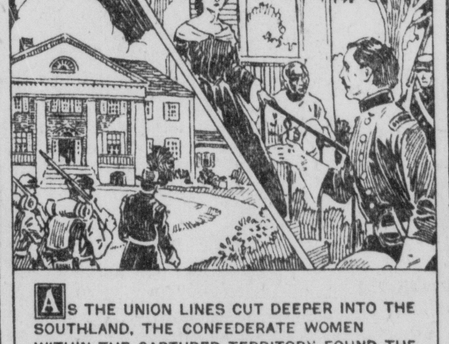
Registered U. S. Patent Office.

THE BURDEN OF THE CIVIL WAR FELL HEAVILY UPON THE WOMEN OF THE SOUTH, BUT THEY CHEERFULLY BORE THEIR PART OF THE GREAT STRUGGLE. SHUT IN AND DEPRIVED OF ALL ACCUSTOMED LUXURIES AND MANY NECESSITIES BY THE UNION BLOCKADE THEY MADE SACRIFICES THAT WERE AN INSPIRATION TO THEIR FIGHTING MEN.

WITH THEIR MEN FOLK AWAY AT THE FRONT, THE WOMEN, IN MANY CASES, TOOK OVER THE MANAGEMENT OF VAST PLANTATIONS, DIRECTING THE WORK OF MANY SLAVES AND RAISING CROPS TO FEED THE ARMY. IN EVERY WAY POSSIBLE THEY LOOKED AFTER THE COMFORT AND MORALE OF THE SOUTHERN TROOPS AND TENDERLY CARED FOR THE SICK AND WOUNDED SOLDIERS.



AS THE UNION LINES CUT DEEPER INTO THE SOUTHLAND, THE CONFEDERATE WOMEN WITHIN THE CAPTURED TERRITORY FOUND THE PRESENCE OF THE NORTHERN SOLDIERS IN AND AROUND THEIR HOMES AN ADDED HARDSHIP, HOWEVER COURTEOUS THE TREATMENT THEY WERE ACCORDED.

OFTEN THESE UNWILLING HOSTESSES OVERHEARD THE PLANS OF THEIR UNWELCOME GUESTS AND DURING THE COURSE OF THE WAR MUCH VALUABLE INFORMATION WAS CARRIED THROUGH THE FEDERAL LINES TO THE CONFEDERATS BY COURAGEOUS WOMEN.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—All departments moved up to a higher range of prices in early trading today in response to aggressive speculative buying, sponsored by the professionals in and out of Wall Street. Estimates of an unusually heavy outstanding short interest have stimulated confident bullish operators in many in which the floating supply is comparatively small.

Dividend talk in Wabash and New Haven Common stocks accompanied the strength and activity of these stocks, which again eclipsed their best price records in more than a decade. In the case of New Haven, which sold up to 57¼, market rumors were to the effect that Pennsylvania railroad was acquiring the stock with a view to leasing the road on a guaranty of 4 per cent dividends to common stockholders. Wabash was also mentioned for a 4 per cent dividend annually.

Leaders in the forward move in industrial shares included U S Steel, which gained about a point Dupont, up 2½; Gen Mtrs up 3; Hudson Mtrs up 2; Woolworth up 1½; Smelters up 1½; Allied Chemical up 1; Westinghouse up 2; Baldwin Locomotive up 1½.

Recreation Bill To Be Considered

Council Will Pore Through White's Bill At Tuesday's Session

BOARD TO CONTROL PLAYGROUND SYSTEM

Councilman and Solicitor R. M. White will consider the Recreational Facilities bill which now is reposing in committee, on Tuesday, councilmen announced today.

The bill provides for a board of five to control recreational facilities and recommend purchases. Council however reserves the appropriation of funds rights.

As the measure now stands it is similar in some ways to the state act and in other ways, it is not. Council wishes to thoroughly digest the measure before taking final action.

Council believes that the superintendent of parks and playgrounds, Walter V. Tyler should have voting power.

Councilmen also believe that they are right in their stand that control of appropriations should rest in their power.

The ordinance calls for the appointment, without compensation of five men, two of whom shall be school board members.

Fifty World War Veterans Planning To Visit France

Arranging For Trip To Legion Convention In France Next September

Some fifty World War veterans of New Castle and vicinity have stated their intention of making the France convention trip of the American Legion next September, and it is likely that over 100 reservations will be made before the summer is over, according to John D. Kennedy of the Peoples Savings and Trust Company, one of the official depositories for the American Legion Savings Club in this city.

And ninety percent of those who have made reservations from all over the country have chosen to visit the American battlefield and cemetery while abroad. Gold Star mothers whose sons made the supreme sacrifice in the World conflict are among those who will visit the great American cemeteries abroad.

Mr. Kennedy says that in order to finance the trip quite a number have taken advantage of the American Legion Savings club and thus when they are ready to make the trip they will have funds sufficient.

Eight great cemeteries, with white crosses marking 30,000 graves, in England, France and Belgium will be shrines of American Legionnaires who make the Paris journey. Six of these great American cemeteries are on former battlefields or ground taken from the enemy by power of American arms or restored through the advances of the Allied armies. The other two American cemeteries are near the great cities of London and Paris and each Decoration day are the shrine of thousands of Americans and French alike.

Officers were officers, noncoms were noncoms and buck privates were bucks during the World War but in death they are equal. The cemeteries have head markers exactly alike for commissioned and non-commissioned men who died on the field of battle. The only difference is the higher rank carved before the name on the marker. The men of all ranks from the first A. E. F. will sleep as they fell, side by side, in the territory where they died fighting. Scattered among the graves are some bearing the inscription "Unknown American Soldier." At Chamery there is a wonderful fountain erected in memory of Quentin Roosevelt by his mother.

State Police Release Two

Two Of Men Arrested Here After Robbery Are Given Freedom

Harry Coburn and R. D. Heisey, two of the men arrested by the state and local authorities for their alleged connection with the plot for the Clarion County National Bank robbery at Knox, Pa., last Monday morning, were released by the state police Saturday.

Those still being held in connection with the affair are S. C. Earl, Frank Hockman, William Matteson and George Guy. The release of Coburn and Hiesey is the result of the very thorough investigation made by the state police authorities and apparently showed no cause for holding them.

Present indications, according to local police authorities, is that the end of the trail has about been reached in the Mather Brothers company diamond robbery. It has been impossible so far to connect up any of those arrested in the bank robbery with the diamond theft, in spite of numerous clues to that effect.

Crescent Club Now National Fraternity Body

Impressive Ceremonies Occur At New Wilmington Saturday Night

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 14.—Westminster College's second men's national fraternity became a reality Saturday when the Crescent Club, a local organization since 1905, was installed as the Nu chapter of Phi Pi Phi.

Installation exercises were conducted by three national officers, Atty. Fred M .Clark, national president; Arnold C. VanZandt, national secretary-treasurer, and Atty. Victor Scott, national counselor. These men came to New Wilmington from Chicago, Ill., where the fraternity's headquarters are established.

The day's program was inaugurated with the arrival of the national officers at noon. Dinner was served in the club's rooms and at 2:30 p. m. installation services were held in the Town Men's Club.

At seven an elaborate banquet was served in the parlors of the United Presbyterian church. Places were laid for 80.

Program Presented

Following the serving a varied program of musical numbers and speeches were delivered. Those who spoke were: Robert Ferguson of Bellevue, on behalf of the chapter; Victor Scott and Fred Clarke, national officers, and Dr. W. Charles Wallace, president of the college. The quartet, which rendered several excellent numbers, was composed of John Louden of Mars, Victor Scott of Connellsville, Dr. Hugh Hart of New Wilmington and Arthur Kirkbride of New Wilmington. John Louden also presented two beautiful violin solos. He was accompanied by Arthur Wilson of New Wilmington. William Thomas of Farrell acted as toastmaster.

Following the banquet a smoker was held in the rooms of the Nu chapter. Members of the college faculty, presidents of other fraternities on the campus, and representatives of the Iota chapter at W.-J. and Mu chapter at Baldwin-Wallace College, were special guests.

The national organization is well established and its installing of a chapter at Westminster has marked a new epoch in the history of men's fraternities here. It was founded at Chicago, Ill., in 1915 and has had a normal growth. Chapters are located at Northwestern University, University of Chicago, Armour Institute of Technology, University of Illinois, Washburn College, University of Wisconsin, University of Utah, University of California, Washington and Jefferson, Case School of Applied Sience and Baldwin Wallace.

Thirty-six active members of the Crescent Club were initiated and a representative group from the Crescent Brotherhood, the alumni organization.

Members of the Nu chapter, who were largely responsible for the success of the installation, are: Donald McClure of Blairsville, chairman of the club's national fraternity committee; Ernest Griggs of West View and Thomas Mansell of New Wilmington, joint chairmen of the entertainment committee. Members of the Chi Omega sorority kindly decorated the church parlors and banquet tables, while a group of United Presbyterian church girls assisted in the serving.

Robbers Visit Local Places

Several Week-End Robberies Are Reported To City Police

An epidemic of robberies and attempted robberies occupied the attention of the city police authorities over the week end. The robbers were successful in getting some money and goods.

Officers Thompson and Walls found the rear door of the Isaly Dairy Products company on East Washington street, open about 3:45 o'clock this morning.

They stated that the place had evidently been entered through the front door, by some person, who had a key, as the backdoor had been bolted.

The money box of the place containing between $65 and $75 in silver was found missing. It had been placed in the wastepaper box for safe keeping.

Detective C. G. Logan was detailed to investigate this morning and found that the above conditions were true.

Gasoline service station of Jack Melvin, corner East Washington street and Arlington avenue, was entered some time Saturday night or Sunday morning. Entrance was effected by breaking a toilet door. Twelve cartons of cigarets, six boxes of candy and six boxes of cigars were taken. Fifteen dollars in cash was not disturbed.

An attempt was made to enter the Wilder & Conover store on East Washington street some time Saturday night or Sunday morning. Officers Horne rand Lynch were detailed and on investigation found that two holes had bee drilled through the floor in an effort to break in. The robbers were not successful and there was nothing missing.

Sheep Run Astray; Police Are Called

There was something akin to dismay at the police station this morning, when there came a call to the effect that there were two stray sheep meandering about the South Side district.

No one had the least idea of how two live sheep would ever go so far wrong as to get into the city and attempt to forage here, especially this time of year.

Officer Pete Hillers was detailed, because of his known ability in handling such situations.

On his arrival in the vicinity of the New Castle hospital, he found an attendant of that institution walking along Mill street, with two sheep following him.

The mysterious situation was soon solved. The sheep are kept at the hospital for use along certain lines of treatment, all hospitals having such animals and they had managed to escape and proceeded to gambol about the streets, until the attendant who has charge of them arrived on the scene and then, like the sheep of Bible times, they followed their shepherd, so to speak, back into the fold.

Large Crowd Greets Prince

Fifteen Hundred See Pictures Of Hunt And Hear Prince

PROGRAM OF MUCH INTEREST TO ALL

Prince William, member of the royal family of Sweden, big game hunter, writer of books and plays, and really a likeable, unassuming and regular fellow, captivated the people of the city while a guest of the city Saturday afternoon and evening under the auspices of the New Castle Quota Club.

Fully 1,500 people were in attendance Saturday evening at the Scottish Rite Cathedral, saw the motion pictures and slides shown and heard his most interesting address concerning the Swedish Zoological expedition, which he led into the heart of Central Africa in 1922 in search of specimens of the rare mountain gorilla and other wild animals.

Owing to the fact that the motion picture projection machine carried by the prince was not suited for use in the Scottish Rite Cathedral, being designed for use in smaller auditoriums than that of the local cathedral, it was necessary to send in to Pittsburgh and secure a machine just for this occasion. This occasioned a delay in getting under way, but the audience was fully repaid for the wait by the interesting naive remarks and mannerisms of the representative of the Royal House of Sweden.

The Hon. William E. Porter, former judge of Lawrence county, introduced Prince William and took occasion to state that it was a pleasure to him to introduce the representative of one of the most enlightened and democratic countries of the old world, and one that had always been on friendly terms with the United States. He said further that among the most exempliary citizens of our country were those from the land of the prince.

Having been formally introduced, the prince, who stands six feet four in height, took occasion to express his appreciation of the cordial reception accorded him while in New Castle. In excellent English he told his story of his hunt in an interesting, understandable manner, bringing forth applause at frequent intervals by his apt witticisms and the story of his trying experiences. He made no effort to place himself unduly to the forefront in reciting facts concerning his unusual trip to Africa, made no claim of having enlightened the world in any special manner as a result of his adventures into Africa, nor to being a great scientist. He told his story in a simple, straightforward manner.

He said, incidentally, at the start, "I take this opportunity of thanking you for the impressive welcome you gave me this afternoon. Nobody in the party, much less myself, expected such a demonstration. It was a charming surprise and I am happy to be with you tonight and will always cherish the memory of this occasion.

"I will endeavor to lie as little as possible, and would call your attention that there are really few dark spots left in Africa.

"As you have probably heard, I care little for society and enjoy the free and easy life of the wilderness. It was really those things that I read concerning your own great American, Theodore Roosevelt, probably your most outstanding character since Washington and Lincoln, that led me into the wilds of Africa."

RULING SPIRIT STRONG

PANA, Ill., Feb. 14.—Leaving his bed in the middle of the night, Frank Umpleby, Pana business man, jumped into his car and drove to the home of a friend, John Atkinson, who lives 12 blocks away.
